III. APPROVAL OF MINUTES

A. April 3, 2017 Assembly Human Resources Committee Meeting Minutes

Ms. Becker had some minor grammatical corrections; hearing no objection, the minutes were approved with correction.

IV. AGENDA TOPICS

A. Board Matters

1. Interviewing Airport Board Applicants.

The Airport Board has two (2) open seats. One seat is that of incumbent Dennis Harris which will be for a term beginning July 1, 2017 and expiring June 30, 2020. The other seat is that which was vacated by Mal Menzies with a term expiring June 30, 2017. The Assembly can choose to appoint a member to the remainder of the current term plus the full three year subsequent term expiring June 30, 2020.

There were two applications received for the two above seats and the applicants are scheduled for interviews as follows:

6:00 Dennis Harris

6:10 Dennis Bedford

The committee interviewed applicants Dennis Harris and Dennis Bedford for the two open seats on the Juneau International Airport Board.

After the conclusion of the executive session at the end of the meeting, the following motion was made:

MOTION by Mr. Kiehl that the HRC recommend the appointment of Dennis Harris to the next full term beginning July 1, 2017 and expiring June 30, 2020 and the appointment of Dennis Bedford to the seat vacated by Malcolm Menzies for a term beginning immediately and expiring June 30, 2020. Hearing no objection, the motion passed.

Douglas Advisory Board - Appointment
 There is one vacant seat on the Douglas Advisory Board for a term expiring September 30, 2018.

There was one open seat on the Douglas Advisory Board and two applicants: Teri Tibbett and Robert Sewell.

MOTION by Ms. White to recommend the appointment of Teri Tibbett to the Douglas Advisory Board for the term expiring September 30, 2018. Mr. Gregory objected and said he would prefer to see the appointment of Robert Sewell since Mr. Sewell has been so involved with the Douglas Island Neighbors association.

Members asked for clarification if this was open to all nine members voting or if the remainder of the HRC agenda was strictly for the four-member Assembly Human Resources Committee to vote upon. Ms. McEwen explained that since the agenda was noticed as the full Assembly sitting as the Human Resources Committee that all nine members are to vote on all items listed upon the agenda.

A roll call vote was taken on the motion to appoint Ms. Tibbett to the Douglas Advisory Board.

Ayes: Becker, Gladziszewski, Nankervis, White, and Jones

Nays: Gregory, Kiehl, Weldon, and Koelsch

MOTION CARRIED.

3. Friends of the Flag - Discussion re: Status of Committee At the HRC meeting on August 22, 2016, Chair Jones noted that there were discussions going on with community groups about the possibility of a local community group taking over the oversight of the Friends of Flag Committee rather than CBJ. Mr. Jones will provide a verbal report to the committee on the status of those discussions. Your packets include copies of a number of documents relating to the history and the recent work of the committee.

Mr. Jones noted that Mayor Koelsch has been asking for the status on this. Mr. Jones explained that approximately a year and half ago, the HRC began discussing the Friends of the Flag Committee, the Hank Harmon Rifle Range and the 4th of July Committee. All three of those groups have resolutions establishing them as advisory groups to the Assembly.

He said that they wanted to deal with the Friends of the Flag Committee and historically they had requested to become a CBJ committee in order to be covered under the CBJ insurance policy. Mr. Jones noted that he has held several meetings with Judy Ripley, the City Attorney, and the Risk Management and City Manager staff about this and Ms. Ripley determined that they could purchase their own insurance for approximately $500. At that same time those meetings were taking place, they also determined that their committee membership was aging and they were having trouble getting people appointed to their board. He said that as a result of that, approximately 6 months ago, the Assembly appointed the members of the committee for the first time since the resolution was adopted.

He said that following those appointments, they continued to work on trying to get other community groups interested in sponsoring the committee rather than it falling under the CBJ board umbrella. He contacted Juneau Chamber of Commerce (JCC), a couple of the Rotary clubs in town. His understanding to date was that so far the Glacier Valley Rotary and the small Rotary group downtown have both said no. He said he has not heard back from the other two Rotary groups. Mr. Jones noted that during his last conversation with Friends of the Flag Committee members Bruce Botelho and Jim Carroll was that they were still trying to set up meetings with the other two Rotary Groups. He said that in the meantime until this is resolved any differently, the committee continues to be a CBJ board and is advisory to the Assembly and is covered by our insurance policy. He also noted that the flags will be going up on Sunday.

Mr. Jones noted that since this committee is still in the process of getting any changes to its governance, the HRC has not yet taken on Hank Harmon or the other committees similarly situated.

Mayor Koelsch asked if it would be necessary for another group to take the Friends of Flag Committee over. He said he was not looking for someone to take them over, but rather, he was looking to not having them as an advisory body to the Assembly. Mr. Jones said they are not an official non-profit group and they do not have any official tax status or other status as a group other than a group sanctioned by the Assembly. He said he has discussed that with Judy Ripley and she expressed that the committee's hope is that their task will be taken over by somebody that can recruit and get younger people involved. Mayor Koelsch said he would like to support the group with either a grant or somehow supporting the work they do financially but the last thing he wants to get the Assembly involved with is which flags go up where.

Additional discussion took place about other possibilities in which the following groups to be considered included JEDC, other Rotary Groups, and/or CBJ Parks and Recreation staff. Mr. Jones said he would keep working with the committee and reach out to some of these community groups to see if they would be willing to take this on.

TREADWELL ARENA ADVISORY BOARD

Annual Report, May 2017

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

In April 2015, the Juneau Assembly approved an ordinance that created the Treadwell Arena Advisory Board (TAAB).

Per ordinance 2015-18 (am), the Assembly tasked the TAAB with drafting an initial report examining various segments of the Treadwell Arena's operations, including financial performance, marketing, and facility usage. This initial report was provided to the Assembly in May 2016, in accordance with the deadline set forth in the ordinance.

In addition to the initial report, the ordinance requires the TAAB to produce an annual report covering a minimum of five topics:

- 1. Ways to market Treadwell Arena to increase the number of users now and into the future.
- 2. Identification of barriers in CBJ Code that could hinder marketing efforts related to advertising, fundraising, concession sales, and naming rights.
- 3. Methods to establish better and clearer relationships with user groups and the public to gain ideas for increasing users and revenues.
- 4. A review of rink operational standards in order to assist in identifying areas in which operational efficiencies may be increased.
- 5. A review of ice scheduling and allocation of rink resources in order to assist in ensuring equity in opportunity and support for a diversity of community rink users.

These topics and more are addressed in this annual report.

Overall, the TAAB has found that the Treadwell Arena is operating in such a manner that encourages growth and diversity among multiple user groups, increases cost recovery, and addresses the needs of current users. The Treadwell Arena management and staff continue to do an excellent job to realize innovative ideas and take feedback to continually improve rink operations.

1. WAYS TO MARKET TREADWELL ARENA

Treadwell Arena management has used a variety of methods to reach out to new users over the past year:

- a. A new program that allows third grade students to skate all year for free was created. The idea is to provide children an experience at the rink that will encourage their future participation in paid activities.
- b. Various marketing efforts, from radio time promoting user groups like figure skating and hockey, to email blasts to users advertising rink events.
- c. Targeted outreach to the University of Alaska Southeast (UAS). As new students come to Juneau to attend university, exposing them to activities at Treadwell Arena presents new recreational and social opportunities.
- d. Many advertisers recruited for Treadwell Arena have rented ice time for various types of employee and client events. There are thoughts of developing a more formal program combining ice rental opportunities or another perk with rink advertisement.

2. BARRIERS IN CBJ CODE THAT COULD HINDER MARKETING EFFORTS

The TAAB has identified two possible hindrances, though they may not be specifically tied to CBJ Code:

- a. As a revenue generator, the Treadwell Arena makes space available along the interior dasher boards of the rink to businesses who wish to use it for advertisements. The current understanding of CBJ policy is that businesses whose primary line of business is alcohol sales, such as bars or liquor stores, are prohibited from purchasing this advertising space. This excludes a sector of businesses who may otherwise be interested in purchasing advertising space at the rink and contributing to the Treadwell Arena's revenue. This policy is ambiguous and in the past, the directive given to Treadwell was that no business selling alcohol, even if it was not the primary line of business, could advertise. We recommend the assembly create a clear written directive on this subject.
- b. While various user groups have been successful in obtaining vending and/or alcohol permits at Treadwell Arena for specific events, the process for obtaining these permits would benefit from simplification and standardization. As it currently exists, user groups are subjected to changing requirements, standards, and an overall difficulty in obtaining permits. A standard, publicly available checklist of what is needed for various permits and a clear description of the process would benefit multiple groups.

3. ESTABLISHING BETTER & CLEARER RELATIONSHIPS

The TAAB found several opportunities that fell within this topic:

a. While the Treadwell Arena filled the "prime" advertising space along the rink's dasher boards, which is the space most visible from the viewing areas at the rink, much of the "non-prime" space remains available. Whether through a review of pricing for "non-prime" space, consideration of

- otherwise excluded businesses, or some combination thereof, filling this space would increase revenue and possibly users with an increase in sponsors and associated events.
- b. As mentioned previously, targeted outreach to UAS has occurred over the past year. This not only markets the Treadwell Arena as a destination for recreational and social activities, but is building a relationship with UAS as a source for new users.
- c. Treadwell Arena hosted several events in FY16, such as a fundraiser for AWARE (Aiding Women in Abuse & Rape Emergencies), that build strong community ties.
- d. The TAAB itself, with a central email address provided by CBJ in December of 2016 and bulletin board at the Treadwell Arena, provides an easy way for user groups to feel more connected to the rink and see their feedback realized.
- e. The TAAB and Treadwell Arena management simplified the user group rental agreement, clarifying the process going forward and improving relations between the Treadwell Arena and the groups as well as between the user groups themselves.
- f. Treadwell Arena management has provided a higher level of user group information to staff, resulting in an improvement in how staff interact with various user groups.

4. REVIEW OF RINK OPERATIONAL STANDARDS

Throughout the past year, the TAAB met regularly and received updates on Treadwell Arena's financial status, ongoing improvements, ideas for future improvements, mechanical & structural aspects of the arena & communication with user groups. Among these topics TAAB found few opportunities for further improvement, which is a testament to the excellent job that both Lauren Anderson as the manager and her staff are doing. While some opportunities were identified, they are simply improvements upon already-improved processes:

- a. As mentioned, a clearer rental agreement was necessary. Changes were identified, agreed upon, and will be implemented. As the new rental agreement is put into place this coming year, it is likely that it will continue to be improved over time based on use.
- b. In response to public input the Treadwell Arena management implemented a uniform public session season pass. In the past, there were different types of season passes unique to the type of ice activity. By standardizing these passes into a single uniform pass, operational efficiencies have been realized.
- c. An opportunity around ice resurfacers was identified. These pieces of propane-powered equipment are used after ice activities to ensure the ice is in good condition for the next set of users and are essential to any ice rink. Treadwell Arena owns two ice resurfacers, both purchased used and refurbished. One of these resurfacers has been out of service on a long-term basis due to various parts and motor issues, leaving just one reliable resurfacer available. If and when this lone resurfacer has a problem, it can cause delays and/or cancelations of ice activities. A reliable backup resurfacer would lead to lower risk and higher efficiencies.

5. REVIEW OF ICE SCHEDULING AND ALLOCATION OF RINK RESOURCES

The TAAB identified several ongoing processes that touch on this topic, some of which have already been discussed:

- a. The new public session season pass encourages harmony among users by eliminating any cost differences between the various passes that existed before. With one consistent price, cost equity is achieved.
- b. The new user group rental process provides a clear, transparent methodology that allows all user groups the same level of access to Treadwell Arena ice time.
- c. A new "family skate" session has been added as a regular activity in response to observations and feedback received from users.
- d. Last year, the early closure of the Treadwell Arena led to lost revenue for a major user group who had previously relied on the final weeks of availability for their program. This year's schedule was created considering that user group's needs, ensuring more equitable treatment of all user groups.
- e. A new "after school skate" session was added, which brings in users from several youth programs ORCA, Zach Gordon Youth Center, REACH, and Juneau Youth Services. This encourages diversity among Treadwell Arena users.

6. OTHER TAAB FINDINGS

While Ordinance 2015-18 (am) requires the TAAB to address the previous five topics as a minimum, there were several additional items the TAAB wished to include as part of this year's annual report:

- a. Lighting in the Treadwell Arena parking area was identified as a concern by the TAAB as a safety concern. Quotes for installing lighting in the parking area were obtained by Treadwell Arena and installation will likely occur this year.
- b. The TAAB provided input on the CBJ Parks & Recreation Master Plan independent of individual or user group-specific input. The Master Plan will be a point of reference going forward in terms of overall direction taken by the CBJ.
- c. While occurring during the initial year of the TAAB, the installation of a cellular signal booster, wireless internet, and GCI TurboZone at Treadwell Arena has improved user experiences.
- d. Additionally, simple fixes such as the relocation of thermostats and the installation of new door handles have improved the overall energy efficiency of Treadwell Arena, saving money.

CONCLUSION

The TAAB finds that Treadwell Arena is operating efficiently and in a way that encourages identifying further efficiencies and taking action to realize those efficiencies. Last year's initial report showed Treadwell Arena's cost recovery at 63%. The most recent year included a major planned improvement as well as a major unplanned repair and still the cost recovery was over 61%. Barring these two expenditures, Treadwell Arena's cost recovery would have shown an increase to 64%. This is an indication of the continual effort being put into how Treadwell Arena is managed and operated by its staff.

While many of the improvements were identified and implemented by Treadwell Arena management and staff independent of the TAAB, the TAAB provided a platform for user feedback that was directly led to other improvements. For this reason, the TAAB feels that it can provide value to both the users of Treadwell Arena as well as to Treadwell Arena management and should continue as a CBJ board.

Juneau Commission on Aging Annual Report 2015 – 2016

Purpose and Goals. The Juneau Commission on Aging aims to promote the awareness of Juneau's changing demographic composition as the proportion of seniors grows at an unprecedented pace; to highlight the role of seniors as a welcome social and economic resource for the Juneau community; and to advise the Assembly on how it can assist in improving local seniors' quality of life.

At a January 2016 day-long board retreat, the JCOA adopted a mission statement as follows: "The Juneau Commission on Aging's mission is to promote elders' well-being, safety, and respect by connecting them with community resources and activities."

With that mission in mind, the JCOA set priority goals for 2016:

- Providing access to information to and from elders
- Focusing on senior hunger and access to food
- Adopting the SMART 9-1-1 system for CBJ first responders
- Promoting the local senior economy
- Increasing community awareness of the JCOA

The group also supports several additional goals:

- Development of assisted living in Juneau
- Improving transportation for seniors
- Development of lifelong learning opportunities

Membership. At the end of this reporting year, in June 2016, our membership consisted of the following individuals:

MaryAnn VandeCastle, Chair

Brynn Keith, Vice Chair

Pat Watt, Secretary

Mary Lou Spartz

Eileen Hosey

Ric Iannolino

Carol Trebian

^{ =} new member this year

Meetings. The Commission met monthly, on the second Thursday of the month, with the exception of a summer hiatus during the month of July. Meetings are held at the Juneau Senior Center and usually feature a speaker who shares information about a topic of interest to Juneau seniors, though members have requested that every third or fourth meeting be reserved as a working meeting to ensure adequate attention to our goals. Attendance by the public this year has been sparse.

We welcomed a wide variety of meeting guests this year, addressing a range of topics of importance to seniors. Our speakers included the director of case management at Bartlett Hospital, discussing hospital discharge planning and the need for advance planning with regard to illness. incapacity, and end of life; the City attorney, who helped us clear up some confusion about the application of the Open Meetings Act to our group; Rep. Sam Kito and Rep. Cathy Munoz, who filled us in on upcoming legislative issues that could impact seniors; Alaska Commission on Aging member Marie Darlin and planner Lesley Thompson, who informed us of budget issues for senior safety net programs and services; Le Florendo, Tlingit & Haida elders program coordinator, who agreed to facilitate our board retreat and joined us to discuss our agenda; CBJ finance director Bob Bartholomew and CBJ Sales Tax Administrator Clinton Singletary, who summarized for us the changes in the senior sales tax exemption scheduled to take effect in January of 2016; Conor Bell, Alaska Dept. of Labor economist, who gave us an enlightening overview of how seniors impact and are impacted by Alaska's and Juneau's economy; Jonathan Lange, CBJ planner, who updated us on the Coordinated Human Services Transportation Plan, and highlighted upcoming changes regarding Care-A-Van and Capital Transit services; City Manager Kim Kiefer, highlighting the senior economy initiative within the Juneau Economic Development Plan and how the JCOA may be able to assist with specific action steps; and newly-appointed Assembly liaison to the JCOA, Loren Jones, on the how we can improve our communication to and from the Assembly.

Attendance. Meeting attendance by Commission members was generally good, with all scheduled meetings achieving a quorum.

Activities. Individual Commission members attended a wide range of other community groups' meetings, sharing information from the Commission and bringing back ideas and information to the JCOA. Among these groups are the assisted living task force (SCSSI), Caregiver Connections (AARP), the Community Resource Network, the Alaska Commission on Aging (legislative teleconferences, and quarterly board meeting), Auke Bay Steering Committee, JAMHI board, and Aquatics Board.

In conjunction with our annual presentation to the Alaska Commission on Aging's February meeting in Juneau, we compiled our Juneau senior population data update (attached).

We submitted drafts of two letters regarding 2016 legislative issues to the mayor and Assembly recommending action by Juneau legislators; one supported extending the sunset date of the Alaska Commission on Aging from 2016 to 2024, and the other listed a variety of legislative issues of concern to seniors. We also sent a letter to the mayor requesting appointment of a liaison from the Assembly to the JCOA, in order to improve our communications with that body, and we are pleased that a liaison was appointed.

For Older Americans Month, celebrated nationally during the month of May, we ran a series of public service announcements about senior issues on AM radio, and appeared on a brief segment on KTOO-FM radio. The JCOA now appears on a quarterly basis on the Capital Chat program on KINY AM radio to discuss current issues of concern to seniors.

With four new board members this year, the Commission held an all-day retreat in January 2016 in order to focus on creating a mission statement and identifying related goals for the year. The retreat was professionally facilitated by Le Florendo, who volunteered her services. (See remarks on page one of this report for the mission statement and goals we developed.)

The Commission continued to weigh in on the contentious issue of changes to the CBJ's senior sales tax exemption during the fall of 2015, this time as individuals with a variety of opinions rather than with the consensus recommendation we had attempted earlier in the year. As in the community at large, member opinions ranged from support for changes that would net the CBJ additional sales tax revenue during fiscally challenging times, to the belief that any change to the exemption seniors had come to rely on would be unfair as well as unlikely to result in any net gain for the local economy, based on the experiences of other political entities resorting to austerity measures. As a group, after the changes were enacted, the JCOA helped to publicize the changes in the exemption.

Plans. The Juneau Commission on Aging plans to continue with its monthly meetings featuring speakers and topics of interest to Juneau seniors. We will re-examine our meeting time and develop an email notification list in order to attempt to attract a larger number of meeting attendees.

We plan to coordinate with other community groups to put together a senior and caregiver resource directory; to seek data on senior food needs compiled by the senior center's lunch program and continue to look for ways to increase seniors' access to food support; to contribute to the building of the senior economy by promoting senior-friendly business practices and compiling a list of the local services seniors said were not adequate in the 2010 Juneau senior survey; and promote the local adoption of the SMART 9-1-1 system for first responders.

We will also begin the process of planning for the next (2020) Juneau senior survey by examining ways of obtaining online input in addition to paper surveys.

We will continue to offer perspectives and/or recommendations to the Assembly as warranted or when requested.

Respectfully submitted,

MaryAnn VandeCastle Chair, Juneau Commission on Aging June 9, 2016

2016 – 2017 Planning Report

January 11, 2016

Facilitated by Leonora Florendo Central Council of Tlingit and Haida Indian Tribes of Alaska Tribal Family & Youth Services Department On January 15, six (6) members of the Juneau Commission on Aging (JCOA) met to set target goals for 2016-2017; one member was out of town on a family medical emergency. The members meet on a monthly basis and report to the Juneau City Council on their activities. JCOA meeting notices are published in the Empire. JCOA meetings are open to the public; their regular meeting site is the Mountain View Senior Center.

The JCOA met on January 11, 2016, at the Central Council of Tlingit and Haida Indian Tribes of AK Executive Offices in the Airport Shopping Mall area. In addition to a short meeting, a good part of the day was spent on a facilitated discussion to set the direction for their activities between January 2016 and December 2017.

The facilitated discussion was guided by the Technology of Participation "Group Facilitation Methods" developed by the Institute of Cultural Affairs in Phoenix, AZ. Commission members were gathered together for this short period to (1) meet a new member of the Commission, (2) to conduct a brief business meeting, and (3) identify JCOA priorities for this year and next.

This facilitation involved a brief getting-to-know-you activity (to welcome a new member), and to respond to questions that would allow them the opportunity to relax in each other's company.

What follows is a report of the Juneau Commission on Aging's responses to questions posed by the facilitator and to identify areas they would like to work on in 2016 and 2017. Their next steps will be to select items from their list on which they will approach the coming year of activities.

The Technology of Participation Discussion Method provides a structure for effective communication that

- provides for meaningful dialogue
- broadens perspectives
- results in clear ideas and conclusions
- allows the entire group to participate

Given the limited time available for this facilitation, the first activity was to meet and greet each other and to respond to specific questions:

- (1) Name;
- (2) Why JCOA;
- (3) How did you get to Juneau; and
- (4) What would you like to focus on in 2016-2017?

Individuals responded to these questions with another JCOA member for a short period, and they moved to the next person until each person had talked briefly with another Commission member. Question #3 generated interesting reactions among the team members.

Following this brief introduction, the JCOA team participated in a series of discussions that produced the list of 2016-2017 priorities that completed their work for the day.

What Do You See?

In this exercise, the JCOA Team was asked to close their eyes and visualize what they see in the Senior population of Juneau.

- A lot of isolated people
- No centralized information
- People afraid of the future
- Food insecurity
- Difficulty preparing food
- Seniors at risk in the community
- Falling
- o Have a lot of community support

- A Terrific resource
- o Insufficient daytime activities
- Need evening transportation
- Need more connection between and among ethnic groups
- Need more Elderly communication and support
- JCOA is invisible in the community

Following this brief brainstorm, members worked together to re-write the JCOA Mission. Members were asked to jot down on a separate piece of paper a word or words they felt would encapsulate their mission and activities for the upcoming year. Following placement of their ideas on a wall, team members were asked to identify words that should be included in their new Mission statement.

Using words selected by the team, the JCOA Mission is:

Juneau Commission on Aging

MISSION

PROMOTE ELDERS' WELL BEING, SAFETY, AND

RESPECT BY CONNECTING THEM

WITH COMMUNITY RESOURCES

AND ACTIVITIES.

In their final activity for the day, the JCOA Team was asked to identify goals for 2016-2017. Each member wrote a goal that they would like to focus on in their time together. All ideas were gathered and placed on a wall so that all members could view the cards. The team identified eight priority areas (with the bullet next to the goal). In the final activity, JCOA individual team members added their initials indicating their interest in working on the goal (in parentheses next to a highlighted goal).

MEMORANDUM

CITY/BOROUGH OF JUNEAU 155 South Seward Street, Juneau, Alaska 99801

TO: Mayor Sanford

FROM: Juneau Commission on Aging

DATE: September 10, 2015

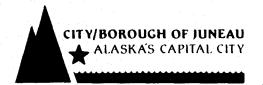

SUBJECT: Request for Assembly Liaison

As Juneau's population of older residents grows in the coming years, issues related to seniors will confront the CBJ Assembly on a regular basis. The Juneau Commission on Aging is prepared to offer input on these concerns. We believe good communication between the Assembly and the Commission is essential.

Members of our group do attempt to attend as many meetings of other relevant City groups (Assembly and other commissions and committees) as possible. A regular feature of our meeting agenda involves reporting on the additional meetings we've each attended during the prior month.

We understand that there are dozens of commissions and committees currently in place, and we much appreciate the fact that the Borough supports citizen involvement to this degree. We know that the Assembly cannot provide a liaison to every group. However, because senior concerns and needs are assuming a larger profile than ever before, and (unlike Anchorage and Fairbanks) Juneau does not have staff dedicated to responding to senior issues, we think that the Juneau Commission on Aging could respond more quickly and effectively to issues considered by the Assembly if a liaison were appointed to attend our meetings; that individual could serve to highlight current Assembly concerns to which we need to respond, as well as making the Assembly aware of senior priorities as they arise at our meetings.

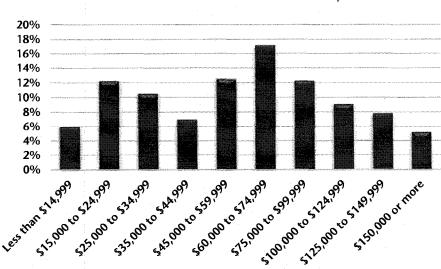

We ask that you consider asking a liaison from the Assembly to attend the Juneau Commission on Aging. Recognizing how busy Assembly members are, we also urge that the Juneau Commission on Aging's minutes be included as a regular part of the Assembly's meeting packet.

Initiative: Build the Senior Economy

Introduction

Juneau is home to over 3,200 seniors age 65 and older. These seniors make up approximately 10 percent of the city's population. Seniors are invaluable members of the community, contributing in numerous ways, culturally, socially, and financially. While individual savings and income varies, as a group the Juneau senior population represents a significant portion of wealth in the community. According to the recent 2014 Juneau Senior Housing and Services Market Demand Study, much of this income comes from State of Alaska retirement plans and other retirement plans (currently over 6 in 10 Juneau seniors are enrolled in the Alaska Public Employees' Retirement System (PERS) or Teacher Retirement System (TRS)).

Percent of CBJ Householders 65 Years and Older by Household Income in the Last 12 Months, 2012

Source: 2010-2012 American Community Survey 3-Year Estimate in 2012 Inflation-Adjusted Dollars.

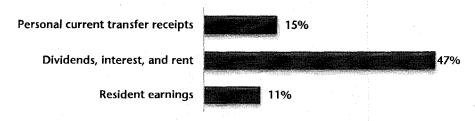

According to migration analysis in the same study, most Juneau seniors remain in the community after retirement. These seniors contribute to the Juneau economy in a number of ways, including through direct spending on goods and services. Many seniors contribute to the economy further by donating money and time to a wide variety of civic, service, and religious entities. Additionally, Juneau seniors serve as caregivers in the community, for children, other seniors, and people of all ages in need of support. Much of this caregiving allows others in a household to participate in the economy who otherwise would not be able to.

The role of seniors in Juneau's economy will grow in importance in the coming years. Projections are that within ten years one-fifth of Juneau's population will be over 65 years of age. The proportion of seniors in the population is projected to remain at or near 20 percent through 2042. Juneau is presented with both a challenge and an opportunity in this growing segment of our population. Within the next decade, the community will shoulder the responsibility of providing increased levels of senior services. At the same time, Juneau has an opportunity to harness the economic potential these seniors offer our community. This potential includes more jobs and spending that will accompany new services for seniors, as well as additional retirement income and savings that will circulate in the community. Seniors in the workforce will also present an opportunity to increase Juneau resident employment versus non-resident.

Between 2003 and 2012, Juneau resident personal income from dividends, interest, and rent grew at a much faster rate (47 percent total increase) than the other two primary sources of income in the community: resident earnings increased 11 percent and transfer receipts increased 15 percent. "Dividends, interest, and rent" describes investment income, such as dividend income from stock ownership (including dividends paid to retirement plans), interest earned on savings accounts and bonds, and rental income from property ownership. As more residents retire, this source of income will continue to become more prominent in the Juneau economy.

Potential Threats/Opportunities

An initiative to carefully plan and structure services and opportunities related to Juneau's aging population will benefit the Juneau economy as a whole. One challenge Juneau will face is providing the services and amenities that will encourage residents to remain in Juneau once they retire. Important factors in keeping seniors within the community include opportunities to age in place or access age-appropriate housing, access to health care and basic needs, a cost of living that is affordable for retirees, ease of mobility, and opportunities for community involvement and support. Juneau could also play a greater role in serving the needs of seniors from surrounding communities.

Senior housing: As Juneau residents age, many need or choose to re-assess their housing situation. Some Juneau seniors choose to "age-in-place," living in their current residence and possibly making modifications to the residence in order to remain there. Other seniors may move from their homes to alternate living arrangements. Such a move may entail down-sizing to a place that has better access or is easier to maintain and/or afford, or a move to organized housing with health care or other support services. The city is taking an important step toward securing housing that meets the needs of Juneau seniors through the current Juneau Senior Housing and Services Market Demand Study.

Health care: As health care needs increase with age, so do health-related expenditures. It is estimated that Juneau residents 65 years old and older spent over $90 million on health care in 2013. This number demonstrates the importance of health care services in the economy. As the number of seniors increases, so will expenditures on health care.

Health Expenditures for Juneau Residents by Age Cohort, 2013

0-19	$5,800	8,252	$49 million
20-44	$7,400	11,392	$83 million
45-54	$11,500	5,292	$61 million
55-64	$17,100	4,866	$82 million
65-74	$23,700	2,218	$49 million

Calculations by McDowell Group.

A significant portion of this spending likely occurs, and will continue to occur, outside of Juneau, especially in Seattle and Anchorage. However, opportunity exists for establishing more health services in Juneau and, subsequently, capturing more health care spending within the Juneau economy. A recent survey of Juneau seniors, conducted by the Juneau Commission on Aging, identified some perceived outstanding health care needs in Juneau. These needs include more medical specialists and medical care options overall. Specific perceived needs identified within Juneau include:

Specific Ne	eds Identified
 Gerontologists, geriatric physicians 	Stroke center
Sub-acute care	 Heart and lung specialist
Rehab facilities	Mental health care providers
Cardiology unit at hospital	 Health clubs that focus on aging

While this list is not inclusive, it does demonstrate the depth and breadth of potential health related business opportunities in Juneau.

Basic Needs/Cost of Living: Many Juneau seniors face challenges in meeting their basic needs, including food, shelter, transportation, and health care. One frequently cited need is for reliable transportation, as seniors often either can no longer drive or do not have a vehicle and, thus, face difficulties accessing basic necessities, such as food, medications, and medical care. While Juneau does have many great transportation options for seniors, such as the Care-A-Van service, transportation improvements for Juneau seniors include not only better vehicular access, but also improvements to winter mobility (including maintenance of sidewalks and parking lots) and transportation-related logistics such as bus schedules.

Information and Education: In order to better serve Juneau seniors, it is important to track data on the type and level of support available to seniors. This data might including the number of seniors in need of food resources, transportation, and health support. Data collection and analysis is especially important for identification of gaps in service. A comprehensive community assessment that includes mapping of senior needs

(see the Clackamas County case study as an example), may help provide a more comprehensive picture of senior needs in the community.

As Juneau's working population ages, residents will need to prepare for retirement. The better prepared for retirement the Juneau population is, the better Juneau's economy will be. Thus, education on retirement planning will be a worthwhile investment, with the long-terms goals of increasing financial security among future senior populations.

Community Support for the Initiative

Over 80 percent of Juneau households believe expanding senior services is a somewhat or very important economic development strategy, with 43 percent of households stating this strategy is very important. Juneau businesses also recognize the economic development benefits of expanding senior services in the community: 36 percent of Juneau businesses surveyed believe expanding senior services is a very important economic development strategy, while another 44 percent believe this strategy is somewhat important. Comments in both the household and business survey draw particular attention to the need for more and improved senior housing and for enhanced health care services for seniors.

Several organizations and businesses concentrate on senior issues in the Juneau. The Juneau Commission on Aging continues to advocate for Juneau seniors, as do many health care entities and non-profits in town. Recent attention to senior food issues, housing, and overall planning for seniors in the community have led to improvements and collaborations by the many providers who currently serve the senior population. Such efforts must be supported and expanded to prepare for this changing demographic in the community.

Important components of a strategy to support Juneau seniors and nurture the economy they support follow.

Selection Criteria Review: Build the Senior Economy

This table describes how each initiative will benefit Juneau economically. Benefits are described within the framework of the 10 criteria used to help select priority objectives and action items for the plan.

Factors	Criteria
Job creation or retention	The initiative is primarily about keeping senior retirement dollars in the Juneau economy by making Juneau an attractive and affordable place to retire. To the extent that new facilities and services are developed to better meet the needs of seniors, there is also a job creation component.
Community economic resiliency	Juneau's senior population might be viewed as another at-risk segment of the economy. This risk is loss of retirement dollars out of Juneau. To the extent that Juneau can strengthen the community's capacity to serve seniors, the economy will be more diversified, which is an important aspect of resiliency.
Investment leverage	Local investment in senior-related services and facilities may have potential for leveraging additional government funding and private sector investment, around housing, assisted living, other elder care facilities, and medical care.
Distribution of economic benefits	This initiative could economically benefit all seniors but more so low- income seniors. Economic benefits would also be fairly narrowly focused on the businesses that provide goods and services to seniors.
Direct or indirect wealth creation	Primarily about wealth preservation, as local residents move from wage income to retirement income. Some possibility of wealth creation, if a stronger base of needed services attracts seniors from outlying communities.
Foundational benefits	The success of other initiatives is not directly dependent on this initiative.
Multiplier effects	Modest multiplier impacts mostly associated with induced effects (seniors spending there income in Juneau). Possible indirect impacts associated with new or expanded businesses catering to seniors.
Expenditure and revenue impacts	No anticipated direct revenue back to CBJ.
Community support	80 percent of Juneau households believe expanding senior services is an important economic development strategy, with more and improved senior housing and enhanced health care services for seniors recognized as key issues.
Leadership	Strong leadership provided by the Juneau Commission on Aging, with funding support from the Assembly.

Clackamas County, Oregon - Senior-Friendly Economies Case Study

Clackamas County, which lies immediately to the east of Portland, covers a predominately rural area within which most of the communities have populations under 30,000. Like many areas of the country, the County expects an increase over time in the proportion residents over the age of 65. In anticipation of this change, in 2009 the Clackamas County Social Services (CCSS) Division partnered with AARP Oregon and the Oregon State University Extension Service to launch a comprehensive senior needs assessment.

The assessment process was dubbed engAGE in Community. CCSS staff used the assessment itself as an opportunity for meaningful senior engagement and participation. With the assistance of researchers from Oregon State University and Portland State University, CCSS coordinated the recruitment of local seniors and residents in a participatory mapping project, Mapping Attributes: Participatory Photographic Surveys (MAPPS). MAPPS participants were given GPS enabled cameras, and instructed to take pictures of things in the community that helped or hindered their ability to live there. These photos, along with comments from the photographer for each feature, were then loaded into a map to help identify trends and problem areas.

During the course of the MAPPS project, 62 volunteers submitted over 630 photos of community features. General themes emerged from the submissions: transportation was by far the most frequently mapped barrier, as residents documented adverse conditions related to walkability, pedestrian safety and accessibility. Housing was also a commonly cited concern. The information gathered through the mapping process, as well as the data from over 100 one-on-one interview with seniors, focus groups, and a community survey were compiled into a report, and was eventually included in the Area Plan for Aging.

EngAGE in Community has morphed into an ongoing means to implement community improvements and programs. The initiative led to the formation of a county-wide Age Friendly Committee. While many of the big issues of transportation and housing remain unresolved, the measure of engAGE initiative's success is in the continued engagement and support that the community has built towards making Clackamas County livable for residents of all ages.
